Name of LAG	LAG ZIEMIA GOTYKU
Short project description	In our area of Local Development Strategy there are 45 thousand inhabitants. The area is partly characterised by traditional agriculture and partly it is a small town with a historic downtown and rural areas with mostly dormitory town function (for people from Toruń). One of the greatest issues is a pollution, coming from agricultural production, means of transport, inappropriate waste management and use of heating units which do not meet environmental norms. There have been promoted renewable energy sources for a last few years, eg network of solar panels on the residential and public buildings, LED illumination and aquisition of wind power. However, high cost of renewable sources of energy and a low level of environmental consciousness among inhabitants lead to marginalization of such pro-environmental actions. Hence, the necessity of actions in the field of environmental awareness and an increase of pro-environmental solutions which can reduce water, air and soil contamination, help in saving the energy, decrease the waste production and so on.
